Ike Will Not Invoke T-H Act Now To Settle Steel Strike

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today present conditions do not warrant invoking the Taft-Hartley law in an effort to end the steel strike.

At a news conference, Eisenhower declined to speculate on when steel stockpiles might be reduced to a point which would imperil national defense.

The Taft-Hartley law permits the government to seek a court order to end any work stoppage which the President finds is a threat to national security.

Discussing the strike which commenced at midnight Tuesday, Eisenhower again expressed hope that free bargaining between the steel companies and the union will result quickly in a new contract.

Can Be Serious

The President was asked specifically to estimate, on the basis of his knowledge regarding steel stockpiles, how long the strike could continue before it interfered with production.

Eisenhower replied that he could make no accurate estimate. But, he said, if all of the inventories on hand should be used up, there would be a very serious situation.

A reporter asked whether Eisenhower thought, now that a strike is under way, that the government should have pursued any different course in its efforts to head off a shutdown.

Free Bargaining

Eisenhower replied that he is convinced the government course was right. We have to have free bargaining in such situations, he said. If there is too much government pressure, then bargaining is not free.

Eisenhower then went on to note the Taft-Hartley law's provision that the government may seek an 80-day injunction to halt strikes imperiling national health and safety.

Those conditions, Eisenhower said firmly, are not here at the moment.

The President again called for management and union officials to display statesmanship and responsibility in efforts to settle the strike. He noted that representatives of both sides have agreed to meet today with officials of the Federal Mediation Service.

Governor Long Resumes Vacation

planned to resume his western vacation trip today after four tumultuous days here.

The 63-year-old governor, whose doctors agree with his statement that he still is a very sick man, had a busy day Tuesday.

Up late from a midnight dinner and party that extended into the wee hours, he had only a few hours sleep before starting a day-long round of conferences with key political advisors summoned from Louisiana.

The Louisiana governor has been in and out of three mental hospitals in two months.

OK ON SNEERINGER

The state Senate at Harrisburg Tuesday approved the nomination of F. Joseph Sneeringer, McSherrytown, for re-appointment to the Adams County Assistance Board. He had been nominated recently by Governor Lawrence.

Virginia Segregation Is Jolted By Primary Vote

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—The administration's one-vote majority in the Virginia Senate apparently was bolstered today by the defeat of two men who opposed Gov. J. Lindsay Almond Jr.'s freedom-of-choice school segregation plan.

The victorious candidates in Tuesday's Democratic primary for the Legislature were supporters of local option.

In four other races in which the segregation issue was a factor, Almond supporters were triumphant.

But Almond faced the possibility of a slightly reduced margin of control in the House of Delegates on the basis of mixed results. He apparently can still count on a five-vote edge in the 100-member House.

Both sides of the school segregation issue could find some vindication of their points of view in the primary results.

YOUNGSTERS SWARM OVER COUGAR JET AT REC PARK

Ten thousand pounds of jet airplane arrived from the U. S. Navy Tuesday for the enjoyment of the youngsters of the Gettysburg vicinity.

The plane, an F-9F Gramman "Cougar" jet fighter, was declared obsolete at the Norfolk Navy Air base and was scheduled to be scrapped. Congressman James Quigley who knew of the efforts of the Gettysburg Recreation Association to get a plane for the local playground if possible, learned of the fighter no longer needed by the Navy, and arrangements were soon made for its transfer to the Gettysburg Recreation Park.

Russell Maitland of BBattfield Earth Moving Inc. volunteered use of a tractor and "low boy" trailer to bring the jet from Norfolk and Tuesday evening about 4 o'clock it arrived in town.

A McDermitt Brothers crane was volunteered to lift the plane from the trailer and place it on the park grounds just west of the central parking lot at the playground.

Several hundred youngsters were on hand to witness the arrival. Arthur Becvar, representative of Grumman Aircraft Corporation, was there to supervise the reassembly of the plane.

It was brought here minus the wings and with the rudder and elevators removed. Considerations of width and height did not permit the transportation of the jet with wings and tail assembly in place.

The wings and other parts are to be transported here in about a week. Kenneth Dengler, chairman of the Recreation Board, said that the plane will be assembled in about two weeks and ready for use by the youngsters. Maitland said that adults too will be interested in getting into the cockpit of the fighter.

Plan Concrete "Cradles" Two concrete "cradles" are to be constructed on which the plane will rest and be held permanently. A stairway and platform will be constructed for easy access to the cockpit.

Recreation Director Chester Hilger and Chairman Dengler quickly learned that screening will have to be placed over the

SOIL EXPERTS STUDY COUNTY COVER CROPS

Twenty soil specialists from New Jersey, headed by Seldon Tinsley, New Jersey state conservationist, and Dr. Russell Alderfer, head of the Soils Department at Rutgers University, Tuesday visited Adams County orchards to study cover crops in orchards here.

Richard Long, county conservationist, and Frank Zettle, county farm agent, conducted the group which included extension personnel from Rutgers University Soil Conservation Service personnel from the fruit areas of New Jersey and a few leading farmers from New Jersey on the tour of the Adams County Fruit belt.

Today the group is in Franklin County and also will visit Washington County, Md., during its two-day trip.

At the Blue Ribbon Orchard, near Arendtsville, Glen Slaybaugh Sr., of the C. H. Musselman Co., outlined to the group the cover crop program in cherry, peach and apple orchards owned by the Biglerville concern. The group spent 1 1/2 hours at the Blue Ribbon orchard.

They then visited the Boyer Nursery Farms where William Lower outlined the cover crop program there.

The New Jersey men said they are seeking to find more permanent type of cover crops that will be adaptable to New Jersey where most of the cover is annually destroyed by discing in the orchards. They said the lighter textured soils in New Jersey lead to extensive erosion in some orchards there when cover crops are removed.

Senate Passes Resolution To Mark Lincoln Centennial

HARRISBURG (AP) — The Senate today approved a resolution setting up a six-member committee to plan a state wide celebration for the Lincoln Sesqui-centennial Anniversary.

The resolution would appoint three members from the House and three from the Senate to plan the celebration which occurred five months ago.

Leaders of the Senate said that the resolution sponsors, Senator Israel Stiesel (D) Philadelphia and LeRoy Chaplain (R) Warren, wanted the resolution passed even though the anniversary of Lincoln's birth had already occurred.

The measure was passed by the Senate January 6 but the House did not approve the resolution until April 15.

The Senate today gave final approval to the resolution by concurring in a House amendment. The resolution notes: "On February 12, 1959, the entire civilized world generally, and the Car Is Recovered Before It's Missed

A car stolen overnight from Solomon Beaver, 615 W. Highland Ave., was recovered early this morning in Everett, Pa., state police reported today.

At 5:20 o'clock this morning state police here received a phone call from Patrolman Walker at Everett asking them to contact Mr. Beaver to find whether he had given permission to two young men to operate his car. State police called and found that the auto had been stolen from Beaver.

Beaver said he was not aware the car had been stolen from in front of his home until he got the Everett call. The only damage to the machine, he said, was a result of tampering with the wiring which the thieves had done in order to start the motor without the switch key. Beaver plans to go for his car this evening.

Police said they were informed by the Everett police that two men, Robert Weddell and Larry U. Smitty, both members of the U.S. Air Force, had been taken into custody while operating the car and had claimed to have permission of Beaver to use it.

Steel Mills Close; 6th Big Shutdown Since War

NEW YORK (AP) — The Steelworkers Union today proposed the industry agree to submit strike issues to a fact-finding board to be headed by a neutral selected by Chief Justice Warren of the United States.

By WILLIAM A. SWARTWORTH PITTSBURGH (AP) — The nation's vast basic steel industry ground smoothly to a stop on dead center today in the grip of the sixth major shutdown since World War II.

A half-million steelworkers, heeding the call of union leaders, struck after two months of contract negotiations that had gotten nowhere.

The union gave no indication of retreating from its demand for higher wages and improved fringe benefits. Just as steadfastly, the industry stuck to its position that it could not increase production costs, must be able to effect some economies.

Positions Unchanged

Those were the basic positions when negotiations began 10 weeks ago. They remained unchanged as the strikes began.

MIKE ARQUETTE HURT WHEN HIS AUTO UPSETS; OTHER CRASHES

Michael Arquette, 23, 777 Baltimore St., and a passenger in his foreign-made sports car were injured Tuesday evening at 8:30 o'clock when Arquette swerved the vehicle to avoid an accident and the small car rolled over.

State police said Arquette, with Lawrence M. Lidz, 27, New York City, as a passenger in the Porsche convertible, was driving east on the Lincoln Highway, five miles east of here when Arquette started to pass a car ahead.

Seeing vehicles approaching from the opposite direction, Arquette sought to swerve his sports car to avoid endangering the oncoming autos and his convertible rolled over three times, demolishing it. Damage was estimated at $1,000.

The Gettysburg Fire Department ambulance removed Arquette and Lidz to the Warner Hospital where Arquette was treated for back injuries and discharged. Lidz was treated for lacerations of the scalp and contusions and remained as a patient at the hospital.

Three Other Crashes The accident was one of three investigated in the last 24 hours by state police.

Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock three cars were involved in an accident one-tenth of a mile south of Biglerville at the property of Olon Young, Biglerville, R. 2.

State police said Richard H. Eiserman, 16, Hanover, driving west, had stopped his car on the highway and started a left turn into a private drive. According to police, John L. Harmon, 19, Biglerville R. 1, also driving west, sought to pass the Eiserman vehicle. The right rear fender of the Harmon car clipped the left front of the Hanover youth's auto.

At the same time, police said, a car operated by Harold R. Baltzley Jr., 18, Aspers R. 1, following the Harmon auto, smashed into that sedan.

Big Damage Bill

Baltzley was removed to the Warner Hospital in the Biglerville Fire Co. ambulance suffering from contusions of the chest and right arm and bruises.

Eiserman suffered a bruised head but did not seek immediate medical attention. Damage was estimated at $250 to the Eiserman auto; $50 to Harmon's vehicle and $1,400 to Baltzley's car. Damage to the front lawn at the Olon Young home, where the vehicles came to a halt, was estimated at $15.

Two Trucks Crash

No one was injured when two truck-trailers collided one-fourth mile north of Hanover on the Cross Keys Rd. at 5:15 o'clock this morning.

State police said Otis B. Bates, 40, Lexington, N. C., was driving a tractor-trailer owned by the Atlantic State Motor Lines of Charlotte, N. C., north when his vehicle skidded on a curve and crashed into a southbound tractor-trailer operated by Norman E. Meads, 37, Baltimore. Damage was estimated at $1,500 to the Bates vehicle and $500 to Meads' tractor-trailer. The trucks, after colliding, left the highway and broke off a United Telephone Co. pole, causing $75 damage.

Bates was taken before Justice of the Peace Charles Luckenbaugh, Hanover, where he paid a fine of $10 and costs on a charge of driving too fast for conditions brought by state police.

Plans Settlement

David J. McDonald, president of the United Steelworkers of America, said he would offer industry negotiators an undisclosed plan for settlement of the strike. "But I guess they'll turn it down," McDonald added in a talk to some 2,000 cheering union members at U.S. Steel Corp's Fairless workers near Morrisville, Pa., Tuesday night.

Big Four Meet Snarled Over Disagreement

GENEVA (AP)—The Big Four conference on Berlin was badly snarled today by disagreements not only between the Soviet Union and the West but also among the Western powers themselves.

The Western foreign ministers so far were unable or unwilling to seize the diplomatic offensive against the Soviets' Andrei A. Gromyko in an effort to get serious negotiations started on a temporary Berlin settlement.

One of the reasons apparently was that the Allies were unable to agree on terms they can accept which might also be acceptable to Gromyko.

Need Secret Sessions
The Western ministers are convinced that if any settlement is to be negotiated with the Soviet Union, it will have to be hammered out in secret sessions. But their proposal to resume secret talks has been frustrated for the time being by Gromyko's insistence on including German representatives.

A formal, semipublic session was scheduled for this afternoon at the Palace of Nations, but Western officials discounted the possibility of achieving anything. They prepared for another round of speech making and said such fruitless public debate might go on for the rest of the week.

No Session Tuesday
Western rejection of Gromyko's move to bring the Germans into the secret sessions resulted in no session Tuesday. The Western ministers took advantage of the brief recess to try to put their own policies and tactics in order for the rest of the conference. All available information indicated they didn't get very far.

The key problem dividing the Allies is what price to pay the Soviets for a Berlin agreement, which would amount to a truce in the crisis created by the Soviet last November with their threat to give the East German Communists control of the Allies' traffic to their garrisons in West Berlin.

The Soviets have proposed that they continue their present traffic control for 18 months while a committee of East and West Germans negotiates toward German reunification and a peace settlement. If they fail to agree in 18 months, the problem would go back to the Big Four.

NEGRO CLAIMS HARLEM'S RACE TENSION RISES

NEW YORK (AP)—Race tension in Manhattan's dense Negro quarter — Harlem — is on the rise, a Negro leader says.

Manhattan Borough President Hulan E. Jack — a Negro — reports that "the people of Harlem are in an angry mood, and the city's got to do something about it."

Jack made his comments after a stormy two-hour meeting between city officials and Harlem leaders at City Hall. The meeting resulted from a near-riot in Harlem Monday, in which two policemen were shot and a woman allegedly beaten by police.

Police Commissioner Stephen P. Kennedy assigned 88 extra police to the section where the incident took place.

Blames Tension
Jack said the incident was an outgrowth of "rising race tension" in Harlem. It was caused, he said, by resentment over "inadequate housing, poor schools, unsanitary conditions, and low-paying jobs."

Police gave the following account of Monday's incident:
Investigating a report of a woman throwing dishes in a restaurant two white policemen arrested Carmela Cavaglione, 21, who is of Italian and Puerto Rican descent. She resisted, but the policemen managed to get her into the police car. They said she stepped on the gas, and the car hit an iron fence. An angry crowd of Negroes gathered, and there were rumors that the two policemen had been beating the woman in the car.

Bystander Interferes
One policeman stepped out, pistol drawn, and a bystander tussled with him. The gun went off, the ricocheting bullet wounding both policemen. Neither was seriously injured.

More police arrived and arrested the bystander and the woman. The wounded police were taken to a hospital.

A sullen crowd of 500 or more milled north three hours outside the precinct police station, as the rumor spread that the woman had been beaten.

Finally, when the man was released with a summons to court, the crowd left.

Steel Mills

some instances before — workers streamed in orderly fashion from mills across the country. Picket lines were set up quickly.

Major steelmaking facilities had been halted in anticipation of the strike and the final shutdowns came without incident.

Men at the mills greeted the strikes with mixed emotions. Some left their jobs reluctantly; some militantly.

"We don't figure to give up what we've fought 20 years for," said Elmer Getty, a machinist at the Pittsburgh works of Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp. A fellow worker, Joe Liptak, said: "I hope it don't last. I want to work. I don't want to stay home."

Steels, nonferrous metals, chemicals and electronics made good headway.

STEEL STRIKE HURTSTRADEAT MATECIC'S BAR

By BEN DE FOREST
PITTSBURGH (AP)—Matecic's Bar is just across Carson Street from a gate of the Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp.'s South Side works. It is a mill bar. When shifts change men coming off duty walk into the bar and have a shot (ounce of whiskey) and a beer or maybe two or three. It's a hemman drink, sometimes called a "pudder" after one of the ruggedest jobs in a steel mill.

Early this morning was no exception. The steelworkers were there, talking about the steel strike that started at midnight. There was no sorrow in Matecic's—at least not on the surface. But underlying all the conversation was the knowledge that every steelworker in the bar was off his job and without pay for an indefinite period.

Business Will Slacken
"Ninety-nine per cent of my business comes through that gate," said owner Mike Matecic, pointing across the street.

"The business looks good to-night, but this won't last. Tomorrow things will slack off. One day during the last strike (1956) I only took in about four dollars all day."

Across the street pickets were pacing near the gate.

"We're as united as we were in World War II," declared picket captain Ed Reber. "Everything we got we got through the union."

Another picket, Michael Leybick, a burner in the mill, said: "The company is progressing in automation and taking a backward step in human relations."

A newscast drew attention to the TV set in the bar. Dave McDonald, president of the United Steelworkers, was on first and then R. Conrad Cooper, chief industry negotiator. Each stated the case for his side.

There were no cheers or applause.

SAYS KOZLOV HAD HIS EYES OPENED IN U. S.

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Gov. Lawrence today said the scenes of American life viewed by Soviet Deputy Premier Frol Kozlov "must have been discouraging" from the Russian point of view.

In an address prepared for the state American Legion convention, Lawrence said:

"It is one thing for Russian newspapers and periodicals to print pictures of our slum areas and of a one-room mountain shack with ragged urchins posing in front."

"It is quite another thing for Kozlov to have moved freely about our cities and countryside and to have seen the real wealth and the truly satisfying way of life we have produced."

Lawrence, who met Kozlov during the latter's stopover at Pittsburgh last week, said the Russian official's visit was made "to insinuate to the world that Soviet leaders have a rapport with American leaders and the American people."

Rather, Lawrence added, Kozlov "was here to probe and inquire into our manufacturing potential" and "to measure the skill and spirit of the American people."

tailpipe of the jet. Moments after the plane came to rest on the ground and the surrounding youngsters were permitted to "get at it," some were found crawling through the open tail pipe into the central area where the jet motor was located before its removal by the Navy prior to sending the ship here.

Recreation officials were not worried about the tail pipe and motor area, where there was room enough for youngsters to get about, but feared some one would try to wriggle through the front air vents, and become entrapped. So a halt was called to such activities until screens could be placed to prevent attempts to squeeze through areas too small for safety.

The plane is designed to hold one pilot. At times it had as high as three small pilots in the cockpit Tuesday and others on the canopy and back of the plane plus numerous others on the wing stubs before Director Hilger called a halt to the "inspection" by the children to permit the recreation officials to make their own careful inspection with Becvar to determine what needs to be done to get the plane in shape for permanent use by the children of the community.

PUSH PLAN FOR OUTDOOR PLAY

Next step toward establishment of a permanent "outdoor drama" here similar to the ones at Jamestown and Williamsburg is scheduled to take place in the near future.

William G. Weaver, chairman of the outdoor drama committee of the Gettysburg Travel Council, reported at a Travel Council meeting in the VFW home, E. Middle St. Tuesday evening that Paul Green, author of one of the pageants, is scheduled to meet here within a week with representatives of various groups to study plans.

Weaver said it will be a community project.

President Walter B. Lane commented on "the growing recognition by residents to restore buildings to the style and type of 1863." Plans were discussed to complete a film strip to be shown through interested groups to promote observance of the Civil War anniversary and encourage interest in Gettysburg.

Printing of 50,000 "Welcome to Gettysburg" "fliers" for distribution by the state Travel Bureau was reported.

A committee comprising Lane, Weaver and Andrew Larson was named to direct completion of a new folder for distribution locally listing the members of the Travel Council and what they offer tourists, church hours and other information needed by tourists.

It was reported that several battlefield guides are considering the possibility of a change in the guides' uniform in keeping with the Civil War.

A letter from the Citizens Committee on Natural Resources, Washington, to Cliff Arquette was read in which the group announced plans to assist in the drive to protect the Gettysburg Battlefield by purchase of needed land.

Reports on the re-enactment of Pickett's charge July 5 showed expenses will run about $200.

"In addition to the promotion of international understanding special emphasis is being placed by Rotary Clubs in this district, which includes 38 clubs in this area of Pennsylvania, on community betterment and vocational service."

He urged the Rotarians to attend the Rotary district conference to be held next March and to make plans for the club to be well represented at the 51st annual convention of Rotary International, which will be held in Miami-Miami Beach, Fla., next May.

Visiting Rotarians introduced were Jerome D. Greenbaum and Lester D. Jacobs, Hanover; Paul Keppel, Westminster, and E. J. Powell, Upper Darby.

Church Slow Pitch

The 50-50 Class of the Church Slow Pitch Softball League remained the only undefeated team in the Gettysburg area as they wallopp the Methodist 11-1 Tuesday evening on the Recreation Field.

Nine of the 11 runs were tallied in a third inning uprising. Phil was the big gun for the 50-50 Class as he hit for a perfect three for three. The Methodists were allowed only three scattered hits off R. Crouse.

Elgart Band Plays Hershey

HERSHEY, Pa.—Larry Elgart and his orchestra, acclaimed as "The First Choice of Dancing America," brings the "Elgart sound" to Hershey Park's Starlight ballroom Saturday. One of the big swing bands which has come to dominate the big band business, it is not by chance that Larry Elgart has vaulted to wide popularity in recent years. Experience and experimentation has been the key to his success.

Stints with top "name" bands such as Charlie Spivak, Woody Herman, Jack Benny, Tommy Dorsey and Red Norvo gave Larry the best possible atmosphere in which to germinate his own ambitions and to weigh the factors that make various kinds of bands successful. The bearded perfectionist is something of a new style in bandleaders. Being a nationally-recognized authority in the field of sound-craft and electronics, Elgart is entirely conversant with the techniques and audio-engineering principles by which his recordings are made. His Elgart "sound" has become the veritable synonym for brilliant achievement in listening pleasure.

Free concerts from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p.m. will be presented in the park bandshell Sunday by the Harrisburg Moose Band.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

C.C.C. Artist Is Assigned To Camp M. P. 1: A new project will be introduced at Camp M. P. 1, to be known as the Public Works of Art project and one man has been assigned to duty here for that purpose.

One hundred unemployed artists have been enrolled in the Civilian Conservation Corps. Eight have been assigned to the Third Corps area, which includes the two camps at Gettysburg. Of the eight assigned to the third corps, one will come here. He is Dan Rhodes of Washington, D. C. Rhodes will depict in painting the work of the C. C. C. at Gettysburg. His work will become the property of the U. S. government.

Captain Plank Ordered To Active C.C.C. Duty: Captain Wilbur L. Plank, Springs avenue, Saturday was ordered to active duty with the civilian conservation corps for a period of six months.

Previous to his assignment to a camp Captain Plank will be enrolled at Fort George G. Meade, near Baltimore, for a month's training period.

Flier Ends Hop From Army Post: Piloting a Sikorsky amphibian cabin plane, Lieutenant John Weikert, son of Mr. and Mrs. William P. Weikert, of McKnightstown, landed at the Gettysburg airport at 10:30 o'clock this morning completing a hop from the United States military school at West Point, New York.

Lieutenant Weikert has just completed four years of service as instructor in mechanics at West Point and has been ordered to Maxwell Field, Montgomery, Alabama, where he reports for duty on August 25.

Miss Jean Thomas Honored At Hershey: Miss Jean Thomas, Biglerville, was installed as second vice president and Charles Gentzler, East Berlin, was named literature superintendent for the southeast central union of the Pennsylvania Christian Endeavor union at a meeting in Hershey Wednesday.

Colgan Makes 6 Appointments: F. X. Colgan, of McSherrytown, who recently was elected chairman of the Adams county democratic committee, today appointed a secretary for the county committee and five members of the executive committee.

Mr. Colgan named George M. Neely of Fairfield as secretary. On the executive committee Mr. Colgan appointed J. Walter Kugler, Liberty township; Harry C. Bucher, Biglerville; Claude E. Wagaman, McSherrytown; Charles J. Rinehart, Oxford township, and Oscar Griffin, Abbottstown.

Others on the executive committee besides Mr. Colgan include Miss Edna M. Eicholtz, Gettysburg, vice chairman; Harry Cratin, Littlestown, treasurer, and Secretary Neely.

Map Changes At County Jail To Prevent Escape: To prevent further escapes from the Adams county jail, the county commissioners will discuss plans for making the county's prison on East High street more nearly escape proof at their weekly meeting next Tuesday.

Prisoners have escaped from the cell block and from the jail yard under the administrations of various sheriffs, the latest break having occurred two weeks ago when two youths climbed to the top of the jail block and then gained the wall around the jail yard. One of the pair was subsequently captured, but the second is still at large.

Aumen Names Two Smoke Squads: James B. Aumen, chief of the Gettysburg fire company squads, following a suggestion made at a meeting of the company Wednesday that such squads be organized to help fight fires where the smoke menace is present.

The suggestion for the appointment of a smoke squad was made

Today's Talk

KEEP COMING BACK

The thing I like about baseball is that there always seem to be two or three players on each club who are never defeated. They could be called "The Home Run Boys." They are forever creating surprises. These are the ones who keep the game exciting, and full of the gospel of winning.

Time and again I have viewed a team that seemed defeated, only to witness one of those never-defeated, chaps come back with head "unbowed," in the words of the poet Henry. No matter how difficult the situation, there are those who keep coming back, demonstrating their superior inheritance and God-given will of heart. How are you going to defeat a man or team that is "victory born?"

Every day there are men and women who keep coming back after discouragement and disappointment, unafraid and full of vision, no matter how steep the hills ahead. Keep coming back to travel with those who are never defeated!

The famous Dr. Osler suggested that we arrange to adopt "the happy habit of living for the day only — Live in day-tight compartments." This is a suggestion to us all to make it a rule of life. Once this habit is put into practice, it can become the cornerstone to the grand structure of character.

I like that thought of Dr. Albert Schweitzer, who said: "The great secret of success is to go through life as a man who never gets used up."

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Be Your Best Self"

Just Folks

THE LATE DINERS
It matters not how rich the man,
Nor what his share of fame,
The club or hotel waiter-clan
Will treat him just the same.

As any common dunder, if he Should o'er his dinner sit
And entertain his company
When it's their time to quit.

They'll fling the windows open
And try to freeze him out;
They'll rattle every dish outside
And bang the chairs about;

They'll strip the neighboring Tables bare
And drop a loaded tray
By tripping just behind his chair

To frighten him away.

No one is quite so scorned as he
Who, dining, lingers late.

The last man there, who'er he be,
Wins every waiter's hate.

They'll mutter speeches filled
With ire
And spurn him to his face;
I think they'd even start a fire.

To make him quit the place.

LOST BOY, 3,
IS FOUND SAFE
IN MOUNTAINS

MCCONNELLSBURG, Pa. (AP)—A 3-year-old Fulton County boy was found alive and in apparent good health Tuesday night, climaxed an all-day search by nearly 500 volunteers in the Rays Mountain area near here.

Little David Fischer's calls for his mother were heard by four searchers cruising in an automobile along Route 30 about 15 miles west of here.

The child was found by Mr. and Mrs. George Grissinger and Dr. and Mrs. Frank J. Alexander, McConnellsburg, in a wooded area near the highway. He had wandered over the rugged mountain terrain for about two miles from his parent's home at nearby Crystal Springs.

Police Searched
State police organized a search after the youngster was reported missing in the morning by his aunt Mrs. Wilma Kent, with whom he was staying while his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Fischer, were at work.

Shortly after the search began, volunteers found the partially decomposed body of a truck driver near a truck tractor, in a secluded spot just off Route 30. He was identified later as Forrest Reynolds, Indianapolis, Ind.

Dr. Russell McLucas, Fulton county coroner, ruled the death a suicide by asphyxiation. Reynolds' head was near the exhaust pipe and the ignition was still on.

At least four searchers were hurt slightly as they combed the mountainous area. The most seriously injured, specialist Fourth Class George Ward, fractured his left ankle in a fall. He was one of 80 men sent to assist in the search from the Letterkenny Army Depot. He was taken to the base hospital at the Army War College, Carlisle.

NEW OBSCENITY
BILLS OFFERED

HARRISBURG (AP)—Administration-backed legislation to stiffen penalties for obscene exhibitions and bring the law up to date was introduced in the House Tuesday.

The bill, sponsored by 14 legislators, aims to bring the penal code provision against obscene public exhibitions in line with a recent State Supreme Court ruling declaring the law unconstitutional.

The measure would delete from the provision the terms "lascivious, sacrilegious, indecent or immoral" as definitions of exhibition that are illegal. It then would spell out obscenity as exhibitions which appeal to the prurient (lewd, lascivious) interests by contemporary community standards.

The new maximum penalties would be a $3,000 fine and three years' imprisonment.

Atty. Gen. Anne X. Alpern said last week she interpreted the high court decision to apply only to the term immoral. The ruling reversed the conviction of a Lackawanna County outdoor movie operator on charges brought under the obscenity law.

DARWIN, Australia (AP)—American actor-magician John Calvert said today he had wrecked his yacht on Elcho Island. He said the accident occurred while he was trying to beach the yacht after making a trial run. The Sea Fox was escorted to Elcho, of the north coast of Australia, for repairs after Calvert sent out a series of distress calls that the vessel was leaking and had engine trouble in the Aratara Sea.

Trucker Averts
Major Disaster

MAX MEADOWS, Va. (AP)—A 26-year-old truck driver may have averted a major disaster Tuesday after his truck caught fire near two tanks of propane gas.

Firemen, rescue squad members and police from several surrounding towns evacuated residents from the immediate area. The flames were extinguished in four hours.

The truck driver, Billy E. Jones, suffered first and second-degree burns but he went ahead and turned off a valve and compressor in a small pump house where he was working.

The truck was within 20 feet of a nearly full 18,000-gallon bulk storage tank and a 10,000-gallon railroad tank car.

SUNDAY SALES
BILL NEARING
SHOW DOWN

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Legislature neared a showdown on the controversial Sunday Sales bill today.

It was sent to the floor by the House Rules Committee Tuesday without change from the form in which it passed the Senate May 5. It will be in position for a final vote in the House next week.

Although considerable opposition was expected, house approval is predicted.

A public hearing was held on the bill last month.

Long List Of Items
It spells out a long list of items which may not be sold on Sunday and also imposes a $100 fine on offenders. Second and subsequent offenses would be subject to a $200 fine.

The present Blue Laws prohibit sale of worldly goods on Sundays and prescribes a $4 fine. The prohibition dates back to the 18th century. The new measure, which has administration endorsement, lists clothing, furniture, appliances, toys, jewelry, building materials, among the items which may not be sold at retail on Sunday.

Furloughs For 6,200
Railroad Workers

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Pennsylvania Railroad will temporarily furlough 6,200 employees Thursday because of the steel strike. A spokesman estimates the strike will cost the railroad about 20 per cent of its freight business.

Those to be furloughed, the spokesman said Tuesday, include 1,200 maintenance of way workers; 1,000 maintenance of equipment; 3,500 transportation, including the train crews and 500 miscellaneous.

Even by cutting the work force the railroad "will not begin to offset its losses as a result of the strike," the spokesman declared.

JOHNSTOWN, N.Y. (AP)—A cloud of sulphur dioxide gas escaped from a truck Tuesday night, enveloped an eight-block area, and forced approximately 300 persons to evacuate their homes.

One person was hospitalized. Police said a rubber hose on a truck burst as it was delivering the gas to the Wells Chemical Co.

BEIRUT (AP)—Iraq's Premier Abdel Karim Kassem says his regime will hold free elections for a new National Assembly before the end of 1960.

SQUATTERS
ORDERED OUT

BLYTHE, Calif. (AP)—"Squatters, get off the federal government's land!"

That's an official ultimatum to farmers along the sandy banks of the Colorado River.

The Department of Interior has ordered some 150 farmers cultivating 27,000 acres of rich land between Hoover Dam and the Mexican border to get out.

The department says the farmers have no business there, and it wants to develop a recreation area along the river which forms the boundary between Arizona and California.

Claim Moral Rights

The farmers claim the land but they don't own it.

They have banded together under the name of Associated Farmers of the Lower Colorado River to fight for the land in the courts. They concede that the law is with the federal government but believe the moral issue is on their side.

After all, they contend, their money and efforts have turned unused, brush-covered land into productive farms which enhance the economy of the area.

The land was withdrawn from public entry by the Department of Interior in 1902.

Pioneers Moved In

As the rampaging Colorado River burst its banks in flood periodically, it changed its course, leaving islands and shoreline high and dry. Then, with the building of Hoover, Davis and Parker dams, the river's flow was regulated and more loamy land was exposed.

Pioneers like William Y. Murphy, now president of the Associated Farmers, moved in and started clearing the land of a jungle of salt cedars and willows. Murphy has been on the land 46 years.

The land's richness has attracted big-scale farmers who raise cotton, alfalfa, cantaloupes and watermelons.

The disputed land includes about 10,000 acres in the Yuma, Ariz., area; 10,000 acres in the Palo Verde Valley of California; 4,000 acres in the Parker, Ariz.-Needles, Calif., region; and 3,000 acres in the Cibola Valley of Arizona.

TRY TO DEFINE
UNION RIGHTS

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Labor Committee comes to grips today with its biggest problem in drafting labor control legislation—wording of a "Bill of Rights" for union members.

After a month of wrangling over details, the committee has completed a redraft of Senate-passed legislation, except for defining the rights of union members and passing on amendments to the Taft-Hartley law.

Chairman Graham A. Barden (D-NC) has set Friday as a target date for completing a bill.

In a preliminary skirmish Tuesday, the committee killed from the Senate bill a provision making it a crime for union officers to interfere with the rights of union members.

As passed by the Senate, the struck section would have made it a crime punishable by $10,000 fine and two years in jail for any union officer to coerce, discipline, threaten, or take reprisal against members for exercising their rights.

STEEL STRIKE
AT A GLANCE

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

IDLE — Approximately 500,000 workers in basic steel industry, 90 per cent of nation's steel capacity. Furnaces banded, steel fabrication at standstill, only supervisory maintenance continuing. Some railroad and other transportation workers already furloughed. Effects will spread as strike continues.

PICKETING—Quiet and orderly, following pattern established in five previous walkouts since end of World War II.

NEGOTIATIONS — Union and management to meet with federal conciliators in New York this afternoon at President Eisenhower's request. United Steelworkers President David McDonald says he'll have a proposal for management "but they'll probably reject it."

STRIKE LOSS — Estimated at $70,000,000 weekly in wages. Companies' revenue from new production halted, and cost of banking furnaces and preparing for shutdown of indefinite duration is high.

Union expenses mounting for strike activities. Union President McDonald's $50,000 salary stopped as strike began.

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP)—President Eisenhower has not dared think of a vacation here this summer because the nation's problems are so complex.

Mayor Henry C. Wilkinson disclosed Tuesday night the President had so written him in response to an invitation to return to this famed community. The Eisenhower's have vacationed here the last two summers.

3 ESCAPED
MARINES ARE RECAPTURED

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Three escaped Marine Corps prisoners were captured Tuesday and book after they had commandeered two automobiles and a truck at gunpoint in Mission Valley.

The three were being transported from Camp Elliott to the Naval Station here where they were to face general courts martial Thursday when they overpowered their guards and took control of the military truck, police said.

In a resulting struggle, the truck overturned. Two prisoners then commandeered two civilian autos and a third fled into the hills near San Diego State College. All three were captured about 30 minutes later.

Plenty Of Charges

Charged with auto theft, assault with a deadly weapon, attempted auto theft, suspicion of robbery, attempted robbery and attempted kidnapping were:

Pvt. Michael Raymond Morrison 20, Gary, Ind.; Pvt. George William Eckley, 20, Mahoning, Pa.; and Pvt. Robert Edward Davis, 18, Mangum, Okla.

The 11th Naval District said the courts martial was to try the trio on charges of attempting to escape from Camp Elliott last February.

Use Razor Blade

Police said the prisoners gained control of the truck when it stopped for a traffic signal. One of the prisoners held a razor blade at the throat of the driver, Cpl. Jack D. Smith, 22, and Morrison took the wheel, police said.

The prisoners took two .45 caliber automatics from the driver and guard, Pfc. Levi O. Barrett, 19, officers said.

The guard then distracted Morrison, the truck turned over, and the prisoners fled.

COOPERSTOWN, N.Y. (AP)—Alfred Guy, 21, who escaped from the county jail on the bicycle of the sheriff's daughter, was recaptured Tuesday when a state trooper recognized him at a bus station in Binghamton. Guy was under 180 days sentence for driving an unregistered vehicle.

JACK KARP IS PARAMOUNT'S SPARK PLUG

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Thirty years ago today, a young New York lawyer left a promising practice to join the legal staff of Paramount Pictures.

Now Jack Karp is the new production chief of Paramount Studios.

He entered the firm at $100 a week just before the 1929 crash. Later, he found himself doing the work six men had done before—and his salary was cut twice to $83.

Rescued From Lethargy

But he stuck it out, and now he's top man at the studio. He is the symbol of the new kind of movie boss, following in the awesome footsteps of the fast-fading pioneers who founded the industry.

He appears able to pull Paramount out of its recent lethargy because:

1. He's a lawyer.
2. He has enthusiasm.

The legal background is of prime importance today, Karp says. "Most of the deals we make with established talent nowadays are independent setups. We spend more time in the legal aspects than we do making the picture."

Played In ROTC Band

Enthusiasm is a prime factor for the best movie makers.

"This is still a great business," he says. "The difference is that there is no movie business as such any more. People no longer go out to see a movie; they go to see shows. Our problem is to provide shows that people want to see."

Karp is New York-born, 56, with a strong face and whitening hair. His talk is easy and persuasive, punctuated with courtroom gestures. His sole contact with the artistic life in his youth was playing in the ROTC band at NYU. He could play every instrument in the band.

A friend kept after him to join Paramount during the advent of

But he stayed on a sabbatical schedule, near-bankruptcy and reorganization. The studio weathered the storm and Karp served under a long procession of studio chiefs. Now he's it.

He works a sabbatical schedule from 8:30 to 7. He eats little breakfast and no lunch, taking noontime for a workout, steam and a nap.

"Dogs eat only one meal a day," he reasons, "and they never go to see doctors."

MANY ANGLES HAVE TO BE CHECKED IN TV

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP) — When Joe Friday or Brenner or anybody else in a television show gives a telephone number while the plot is unwinding, they use dummy digits.

The telephone company has a special list of authentic-sounding numbers but they ring nothing. Broadcasters have learned from experience that the great big audience out there contains people curious enough to put in a call.

Hunting for such items is part of many people's jobs in a television industry. One executive employed by the National Assn. of Broadcasters says he caught a telephone number in a script—and found it was actually the number of a New York physician.

Get Some Squawks

Names of characters are another area for watching. Occasionally the networks get squawks from annoyed citizens who claim that their names were given to unsavory characters.

Some writers and some editors, says Stockton Helfrich of NBC's Continuity Acceptance Department, use a system of taking common given names and coupling them with a place name—a lot of towns have handles which do nicely as surnames.

"We just try to use common sense," says Helfrich.

One of the more difficult problems is the complaints which come in when names of easily identified national origin are used. Recently there has been a lot of TV drama concerning the old prohibition gangster days, and complaints have come in from those of Italian descent.

Favor Ballot For 18-Year-Olds

HARRISBURG (AP) — Pennsylvania's Young Republicans want their party's legislative leaders to support a bill to allow 18-year-olds to vote.

In a statement Tuesday Tahom H. McIntosh, chairman of the group, said:

"We believe there are several good reasons for extending voting privileges to this group. Not the least of these is the excellent instruction in government and civic responsibilities that high school students receive in our state's secondary schools."

A proposed constitutional amendment granting the vote to 18-year-olds has passed the House and is in Senate Committee. It has already passed one session of the legislature and if approved by the Senate, the question will be placed on the ballot in the November election.

The animals are star performers in the current fall fashion previews of the New York Dress Institute, staged for the benefit of 240 fashion editors from newspapers throughout the United States.

Nettie Rosenstein, famous as America's leading advocate of the "little black dress," shows it in many versions, but this season adds glamor in the form of elegant evening gowns in rich brocades. She also introduces her favorite color of the season, "Opussum," a soft taupe, which she teams with real possum fur hats and accessories.

Drama In Fur And Fabric
Ceil Chapman introduces a new ankle length in her severely tailored dinner suits, in fabulous fabrics such as metallic brocades, satins and cut velvets. A highlight is her "sceptre" suit in rose-lattened red-and-white cut velvet, with plain box jacket over a slim wrapped skirt with hemline about eight inches from the floor. This is worn with a wrapped blouse of white matte jersey.

The ultimate in casual opulence is achieved by her theater ensemble of silver brocade, the coat lined in chinchilla, the world's most expensive fur. Both coat and dress are cut on the simplest possible lines, leaving the drama to the fur and the fabric.

SAYS HOFFA'S NOT GOING TO CLEAN UNION

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark.) said today it is crystal clear James R. Hoffa never will clean up corruption in his Teamsters Union.

The Senate rackets probes headed by McClellan wound up Tuesday a 2½-year investigation of Teamster President Hoffa and scandals in the union.

As a parting shot, committee counsel Robert S. Kennedy denounced Hoffa to his face as a taker of payoffs from employers.

"I'll tell you that's a lie," Hoffa flared back.

Kennedy Hopeful

Kennedy said he has no plan for further questioning of Hoffa. But

IMPRESSIVE RECORD

NEW YORK (AP) — Celebrating its 15th season, the New York City Center of Music and Drama has compiled an arresting array of statistics.

Altogether, 3,291 performances have been given by the ballet, opera, drama and light opera companies which share the annual calendar of events, played to a half million spectators.

NATIVES TAKE OVER

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — American Protestant missionaries are turning over their oldest foreign base of operation to control of nationals. The transfer this month to Arab Christians in the National Evangelical Synod of Syria and Lebanon will include ownership of more than one million dollars worth of property.

He said the committee still could change its mind and investigate the Teamsters further.

In hopeful tones, Kennedy told reporters the board of monitors appointed by a U.S. District Court to help police the Teamsters could "make the problem academic" by removing Hoffa as the union's president.

The inquiry ended just about where it had started. Hoffa made lengthy replies to every question the committee asked but they contained little information.

He testified he will move—"in due course"—to deal with charges that gangsters, racketeers, extortionists and narcotics peddlers have risen to power as his aides in important union offices.

MANY FARMS NEEDING RAIN

HARRISBURG (AP) — Pennsylvania's farming areas need some soaking rain to restore soil moisture, the State Crop Reporting Service said Tuesday.

It added that every week of below normal precipitation from now until the first frost will be damaging to the state's crops.

Other developments reported by the Agriculture Department agency:

"Early varieties of apples are now coming to market from south central and eastern counties. Free stone peaches are beginning to turn color, and the sour cherry harvest is well under way in Erie County, pushed to fast maturity by ideal weather.

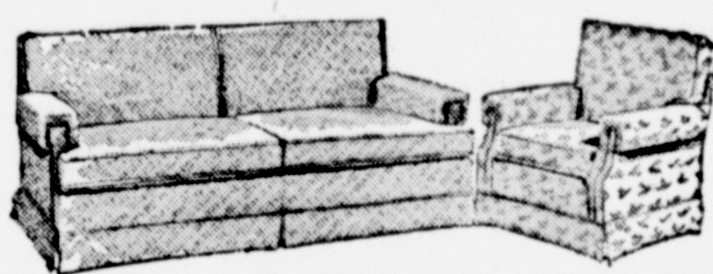

"Stake tomatoes from the Lancaster-York areas are moving in volume to the stores, and sweet corn has started volume movement later than normal this year. "Beets, cabbage, cucumbers and snap beans are available from the Wyoming Valley and other central and southeast areas. Erie County boasts a snap bean harvest at its peak with ideal conditions.

"Clear filler tobacco is off to a good start and making fast growth."

Name "Dixie" was given to the South, according to popular belief, by Negroes who were fond of a Manhattan slave owner by that name.

KENNEDY IS "SURPRISED" BY HUMPHREY

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—His likely competitors waved Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.) on today toward a six-months' head start in the official scramble for the 1960 Democratic presidential nomination.

Humphrey's scheduled formal entry into the race a year before the party's nominating convention found none of his potential rivals edging toward the official starting post.

Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) expressed surprise at Humphrey's early public unveiling of his ambitions. But the Massachusetts senator said this will make no change in his own plans.

Delays Decision

Kennedy, who has been unofficially beating the bushes for convention delegates for months, said he will decide at the end of this year or early in 1960 whether he will become an active candidate. Few doubt that he will.

Instead of bolting for the starting gate, Kennedy intends to stop even his indirect campaigning for the summer. With the exception of an Aug. 1 appearance at the Oregon state convention of the AFL-CIO, he said he will fill no more speaking dates until fall.

Friends said neither Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo.) nor Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas can be expected to announce officially as candidates until their states give them favorite son labels next spring.

Adlai E. Stevenson, twice the party's presidential nominee, intends to say and do next to nothing about the nomination until convention time. Govs. Robert B. Meyner of New Jersey and G. Mennen Williams of Michigan seem likely to remain content with favorite son designations.

Neither Symington nor Johnson is expected to enter any primaries. Kennedy will get into as many of these contests as he can, beginning with New Hampshire's first. If he finds it necessary in order to demonstrate widespread support, Kennedy is likely even to challenge some favorite sons.

Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy (D-Minn.), who joined with Minnesota's Gov. Orville L. Freeman in announcing Humphrey's availability, said he has no doubt Humphrey will enter some of the primaries.

To Campaign As Liberal
If he and Kennedy do not meet in Wisconsin's balloting because of a favorite son situation there, they may collide in Nebraska and South Dakota. Both are likely to be entered in Oregon's free-for-all. Humphrey is expected to campaign for the nomination as an all-out liberal. Resentment among Southern Democrats against his strong stand on civil rights is likely to be increased by a major speech he has scheduled on the issue before the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People in New York Wednesday.

CUBANS HIJACK CASTRO PLANE; FLEE TO FLA.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Four Cuban servicemen fled here Monday by hijacking a Fidel Castro air force plane with 17 persons aboard.

They predicted more Cubans will follow them into exile because of rising Communist influence at home.

The Cuban air force mechanics used pistols to persuade a pilot to land them in Miami. They said their plane had been bound for Camaguey with reinforcements and ammunition.

The quartet was paroled for a hearing on their petitions for political asylum. The pilot was allowed to fly the plane and its other 11 occupants back to Havana.

Anti-Castro Buildup
Candido Baldrich Gonzalez, 39, Ezequiel Paula Viamontes, 30, Silvia Aquila Entenza, 31, and Homero Garcia Perera, 30, said they decided to hijack the two-engine C47 "rather than see our own people killed by the bullets and rockets we were carrying."

The defectors said that anti-Castro elements were building up in the central Cuba hills around Camaguey and that eight rockets and 42 boxes of 20-millimeter shells on the plane were destined for use against these groups.

The fugitives said they are anti-Communist followers of Major Pedro Diaz Lanz, former Cuban air force chief who fled Cuba July 1 after charging the Communists have infiltrated Castro's forces.

HARRISBURG (AP)—James F. Maroney, a retired Pennsylvania state police captain, will take over duties Aug. 1 as superintendent of Western State Penitentiary at $9,923 annually.

Maroney, 56, of Greensburg, was named to the post by the State Justice Department Monday. He will replace A. C. Cavell, who will become superintendent of the Rockview State Penitentiary.

Frank C. Johnston, presently superintendent at Rockview, will in turn be made superintendent of the new Institution for Defective Delinquents at Dallas. Cavell and Johnston will continue to receive $11,809 yearly.

Deer Rifle Kills Boy Accidentally

BELLEfonte, Pa. (AP)—Michael Lee Brown, 8, accidentally shot himself to death at his home here Monday night while playing with a high-powered deer rifle.

Trooper Michael Mutch of the state police said the youngster had taken the 30-06 rifle from a rack in an upstairs room while his parents were out. His older brother, Dennis, 11, was the only other member of his family in the house when the accident occurred.

Mutch said the youngster shot himself in the head. The boy is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Brown, three sisters and five brothers.

Jim McAnany, rookie outfielder with the Chicago White Sox, hit .400 for Colorado Springs in 1958. He was called up in late June to replace rookie Johnny Callison.

WATERSHED PLAN OKAYED

HARRISBURG (AP)—The House Rules Committee has approved a multimillion-dollar watershed development plan for the Brandywine Valley of southeastern Pennsylvania. It approved Monday a $1,950,000 appropriation to carry on further planning of the project, which the Forests and Waters Department estimates will cost 12 million dollars to complete, excluding federal aid.

The appropriation is not included among the Lawrence administration's budget requests for the 1959-61 biennium.

The legislation would authorize the department to build a series of multipurpose dams and reservoirs along the Brandywine Creek

EX-PRIEST SAYS RED ARCHBISHOP HAS MANY GIRLS

LONDON (AP)—A Russian Orthodox archbishop Tuesday was charged with keeping a bevy of concubines and spending thousands of rubles on drinking bouts.

A former priest made the charges against 51-year-old Archbishop Sergius of Astrakhan and Stalingrad in an open letter published in the newspaper Soviet Russia and broadcast over Moscow radio's home service.

The ex-priest, Nikolay Spasskiy, accused the churchman of fathering two illegitimate children.

Spasskiy claimed Sergius had surrounded himself with so-called adopted daughters and nieces provided by a Stalingrad monk.

The letter claimed that when Sergius took up his post in Astrakhan, he bought himself a house for 250,000 rubles.

"This new house and the servants which you require were necessary in order to freely meet with your so-called adopted daughters, nieces and other similar relatives," said Spasskiy. "Enormous funds" provided by parishioners "made possible large dinner parties, drives with your retinue and drinking bouts."

and its tributaries for flood control, water supply improvement and irrigation purposes. It also proposed state parks at one or more of the dam sites.

The department's own plan for the valley, announced by Secretary Maurice K. Goddard's earlier this year, calls for two huge multipurpose dams, as many as three state parks and a series of flood control dams.

SET MINIMUM SPEED ON PIKE

HARRISBURG (AP)—Vehicles using the high-speed Pennsylvania Turnpike must travel at least 35 miles per hour, effective immediately, the Turnpike Commission ruled Tuesday.

Joseph J. Lawler, acting commission chairman, said the minimum speed limit was set in an effort to reduce an "unexcusable" number of rearend accidents on the toll road.

The minimum limit was recommended by the commission staff following a recent accident in which an antique automobile was demolished and its occupants injured.

Lawler said the accident report showed the antique vehicle was not maintaining a "safe speed." He said the limit does not affect vehicles on Turnpike inclines, that the regulation will apply only on the level highway.

The maximum speed limit of the Turnpike is 65 miles per hour for passenger cars and buses and 50 miles per hour for trucks and a combination of other vehicles.

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—James Kjelgaard, 49-year-old writer of youth adventure stories, was found shot to death in his Phoenix home Sunday.

Police said he had taken his own life by firing a rifle bullet into his head.

Officers said Kjelgaard's wife, Edna, told them her husband had been despondent since an unsuccessful brain operation two years ago. She said that she and their daughter, Karen, 19, were in the kitchen when they heard the shot.

FATHER FREES 4 SONS ON PLEA FROM A PRIEST

MERIDEN, Conn. (AP)—A father barricaded himself and his four sons in their home early Tuesday and held two dozen police at bay with rifle fire.

A priest finally talked him into giving up.

Hidden in a dark second-floor room, Victor Jones, 27, a roofer, shouted: "Get out of here. I mean business."

From outside, his wife Glenda, 18, pleaded with him to release the children, aged 1 to 4.

"I got a gun against John's head," Jones yelled back.

Finally he agreed to let a Roman Catholic priest, the Rev. Albert Healey, enter the house.

Four Boys Freed

An hour passed. Then the door swung open and the four boys in pajamas trooped out. The mother ran forward and grabbed them.

Another hour went by. Inside, Father Healey talked quietly to Jones, in the darkness.

Then came a call from the priest to Detective John Roberts: "Throw away your gun and come in with hands up."

A few minutes later police heard Roberts' order: "We're going to come out now. Don't rush the door. He's coming out peacefully."

The door swung open again and Roberts came out first, carrying Jones' rifle. Jones followed. The priest was last.

Jones was taken to the police station and booked on a technical charge of breach of the peace.

Soldier Is Found Guilty In Death

HEIDELBERG, Germany (AP)—Pvt. Donald Bruner of Richmond, Calif., Tuesday was convicted of involuntary manslaughter in the death of a fellow soldier. He was sentenced to the maximum term of three years at hard labor.

A general court-martial found the 19-year-old Bruner guilty of shooting Pvt. Joseph C. Darling, also 19, of Grove City, Pa. While both guarded a Karlsruhe ammunition depot from adjacent towers March 21.

KILLED BY TRAIN

LEWISBURG, Pa. (AP)—Robert G. Metzler, 18, of Lewisburg, was killed Monday night when he was run over by a Pennsylvania Railroad freight train.

Harry Beck, Union County coroner, said the train crew told him they saw the youth lying between the rails near a crossing in Lewisburg, but were unable to stop the train. An engine, four cars and a caboose passed over him.

Beck said there was no explanation for the boy's being on the tracks.

LIMIT YANKEE DRESS ABROAD

TOKYO (AP)—Wives of American airmen were stopped this week from going into the U.S. commissary wearing Japanese zori—flat sandals with a strap between two of the toes.

Several took off their zori and shopped barefooted, and that was okay with the storekeepers.

An Air Force spokesman Tuesday conceded that something was "certainly inappropriate." He was not sure just what, but said, "anyway it was all a mistake. We are trying to get this clarified."

The Air Force has set down a clothing policy for wives and daughters of airmen. Among the "don'ts" are shorts, pedal pushers, slacks and rubber swimming-pool type sandals in public places.

The spokesman said apparently the policy was being mistakenly interpreted to ban all types of sandals.

One military housewife said on a recent visit to the commissary she "saw at least three women shopping in their bare feet and several others who were wearing zori turned away because they would not remove them."

SET EXECUTION DATE

HARRISBURG (AP)—Gov. Lawrence has set the week of Oct. 5 for execution of Robert L. Williams, Philadelphia, in the slaying of a Philadelphia druggist two years ago.

The Philadelphia man was convicted in the slaying of Lewis Viner. Convicted with him were James Cater and George Lee Rivers, also of Philadelphia. However the State Supreme Court vacated their death sentences and ordered them resentenced.

POLITICS IS CHARGED TO TAX BOARD

HARRISBURG (AP)—Senate Republicans want to know why newly revised state figures on real estate valuation are going to slice state aid for most school districts by 7 million dollars in the next two years.

Members of the State Tax Equalization Board have been asked to give the explanation at the Senate GOP caucus next Tuesday.

Rep. Albert W. Johnson, House Republican floor leader, charged politics in the board's latest revision of the market value of real estate in Pennsylvania.

"Rural school districts will be losing out while Philadelphia and Pittsburgh will gain under the new report," he told the Associated Press. "Our members are plenty burned up about it."

7 Million Loss

The situation came to light Tuesday with a breakdown by the Pennsylvania State School Directors Assn. of the effect on schools of recent findings made by the board. Board figures are used by law as the basis for determining state aid to schools.

John Hertz, associate executive secretary of the school directors' organization, said the net loss of state aid to third and fourth class school districts in the 1959-60 and 1960-61 school years would run to about 7 million dollars.

All but 25 of the 2,351 school districts are in those classes.

More For City Districts

First and second class school districts would stand to receive an additional net of 3 1/2 millions in the next two years. Philadelphia alone accounts for $2,384,000 of it.

DEMOCRATS BALK AT IKE'S HOUSING BILL

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP)—Democrats balked today at accepting the Eisenhower administration's newest version of a housing bill.

Instead, Sen. John Sparkman (D-Ala.) said a banking subcommittee he heads will begin hearings soon on President Eisenhower's veto of a Democratic-sponsored measure the chief executive called extravagant and inflationary.

"We know the President is wrong in the statements he made about this bill and we are going to show on record that he is wrong," Sparkman said in an interview.

Denounce Ike's Stand

Sparkman joined Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas in denouncing Eisenhower's contention that the vetoed bill would have involved $2,000,000 in expenditures. The Democrats estimated costs of the two-year program at $1,375,000,000.

Johnson told the Senate Tuesday that Eisenhower's figure was arrived at by a "Madison Avenue gimmick" of including estimates for possible public housing sub-

Ambushers Trapped By Deputy Sheriff

LOCKPORT, N. Y. (AP)—Answering a motorist's report of someone shooting at passing cars, Deputy Sheriff Clyde Doty spotted two armed figures on telephone poles near the road.

At closer examination, Doty found them to be two youngsters who had merely taken strategic positions to fire at passing "tanks" with their toy guns.

The New Bill

The new housing bill backed by Eisenhower was introduced in the House Monday by Reps. Gordon L. McDonough (R-Calif.) and William B. Widnall (R-N.J.), and in the Senate Tuesday by Sen. Prescott Bush (R-Conn.). Providing for no new public housing, it would authorize a total of 810 million dollars in housing loans and grants.

The administration measure would provide 600 million for slum clearance to be met by congressional appropriations instead of what Bush described as "back-door" financing by Treasury borrowing to finance the 900-million-dollar program in the vetoed measure.

James MARLOW Reports

The Associated Press

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower has been in a philosophical dilemma in trying to get the steel industry and the Steelworkers Union to reach a contract agreement and avoid a strike.

He has a basic philosophy of minimum government interference in private business. But he did interfere in this case to some degree.

Now, if there is a prolonged strike affecting the whole economy, he faces this question: Did he do enough, soon enough?

Would Avoid Inflation He has been anxious, because of the need to consider the whole economy, to avoid any more inflation. Living costs already have risen about 10 per cent since he took office in 1953. Because so many other industries depend on steel products, the steel industry is vital to the whole economy. If the industry raised its workers' pay and then raised prices to make up for this extra cost, then other industries, forced to pay more for steel, would raise prices on their products.

And unions, whose members had to pay more for what they bought, would want higher wages. In short: a new wage-price spiral.

Cautioned in May Eisenhower, fearing the effect on the whole economy if steel wages and prices shot up, cautioned the industry and its workers last May 5, the day the steel union and the industry began negotiations on a new contract.

He said "the United States cannot stand still and do nothing" if they push wages and prices up in an inflationary swirl. He urged both sides in the steel business to show good sense.

He said the American people couldn't stand by and see themselves hurt.

When a strike began to look inevitable, two senators, Jacob K. Javits, a New York Republican, and Stuart Symington, a Missouri Democrat, suggested Eisenhower call both sides to the White House for a conference.

Presidential Pressure Eisenhower rejected the idea, arguing the results would be more hurtful than helpful if the government interceded directly and tried to apply political or other pressure.

But the fact was he had already intervened on May 5 and had applied presidential pressure to both sides to be careful. In doing so he had singled out one industry on which to apply the pressure.

There were other steps he could have taken but didn't because, perhaps, he was being guided by his philosophy of minimum government interference.

Strike Can Hurt He could have taken the drastic step of using the Taft-Hartley Act to delay any strike at least 90 days. He could have taken the much milder step of asking both sides to let federal mediators help them reach a settlement.

He did neither. Yet a steel strike, if prolonged, might hurt the economy worse than inflation, for it might turn it into a spin at the very time it was bouncing back from the 1958 recession.

A long-drawn-out steel strike would force other industries, dependent on steel, to lay off workers.

There seems to be wide agreement that a strike of short duration might not be too generally troublesome because so much steel was produced earlier this year in anticipation of a strike.

Talks Droned On The talks droned on. After two months of talking and no results, the strike was to start July 1. Again Eisenhower intervened but still only mildly. He asked both sides to skip the strike date and keep talking.

They did but again the deadline for the strike was reached, with both sides reconciled to a shut-down. Then last Tuesday Eisenhower asked both sides to let federal mediators step in and work with them for agreement.

This move could have been made weeks ago. Neither side has to accept any recommendations the mediators make, yet both will be under tremendous pressure to accept, since the mediators represent the government and the public.

So all through this picture Eisenhower, who is reluctant to interfere in private dealings, has been interfering—but not enough to prevent the steel industry from reaching the point of a strike.
